

Passion for Fashion (117)

Mon, 9th Dec 2019 GMT/BST

Lot 47

Estimate: £400 - £600 + Fees

A Chanel silver tweed ensemble trimmed with iridescent tinsel-ribbon, 'Shopping Centre' collection, Autumn-Winter 2014-15 ready-to-wear, labelled and size 36, comprising: coat with tinfoil-effect buttons and cropped jacket woven with three-dimensional 'clouds', busts approx 86cm, 34in (2)

This was look no.21 on the catwalk and worn with trousers, trainers and accessorised with Chanel shopping basket.

For this collection, Chanel created one of their grandest catwalk sets to date: an entire 'Chanel' supermarket where the sporty models walked amongst aisles stocked with 'Lait de Coco' and Chanel-branded washing-up gloves. Karl Lagerfeld said of this collection: 'I think a little humour is needed... At Chanel, we can play with everything and do whatever we want - nobody tells us what to do'.